“Developed to meet the needs of users”

Minesoft Patent Family Portal

taps into the EPO OPS developers' service to retrieve data from the respected INPADOC service. It is designed for organisations requiring access to patent family members and current legal status, with additional legal information from other sources included in Minesoft's service a notable extra.

“Clear and concise reports”

An uncluttered, user-friendly interface ensures easy input of data. Running family searches is very straightforward. Just one, or many patent document numbers can be entered into the search box. This means that if there are lots of patent families to be checked, they can be entered at once, and the system will deliver results once the families have been located. Each family is concisely tabulated, followed by corresponding legal status where available. The table contains integrated links to documents located at additional websites for further research and follow up.
